REMORA BELT

MODEL DESCRIPTIONS

The REMORA transport system was designed to be used in the specific transport of people who are unable to move, whether conscious or unconscious (no polytrauma).
With its system of high load belts, adjustable and padded support bands and the special technique of use, it allows the load of the perilant to be loaded on the shoulder, in solidarity with the rescuer.
REMORA is very incisive in the rapid discharge of injured people in areas of high environmental or industrial risk or war scenarios
